

Elisabetta Carrà is Full Professor of Sociology of Cultural and Communicative Processes at the Faculty of Psychology at the Catholic University of Milan. She is also a member of the scientific committee of the Family Studies and Research University Centre (Catholic University of Milan). Her main research interests are: family transitions, social and cultural transformations of the family, family-oriented human services, family impact of programs and policies, family associations.

Recent publications:

Carrà, E. (Forthcoming, 2019). Familiness and responsiveness of human services: The approach of relational sociology. In G. Burford, V. Braithwaite & J. Braithwaite (Eds.), Restorative and responsive human services. New York, NY: Routledge.

Bertoni, A., Carrà, E., Iafrate, R., Zanchettin, A., & Parise, M. (2018). The associations for separated parents in Italy: Their role for parents' well-being and coparenting. Health & Social Care in the Community, 26(4), 1-7. doi:10.1111/hsc.12573.

Carrà, E. (2017). Family associations as social capital for families and society. Stepp: Socialine Teorija, Empirija, Politika Ir Praktika, 14(1), 20-35. doi:10.15388/STEPP.2017.14.10413.

Rossi, G., & Carrà, E. (2016). The relational approach and the family. Socialine Teorija, Empirija, Politika Ir Praktika, 13(1), 7-23. doi:10.15388/STEPP.2016.13.10040.

Bertoni, A., Iafrate, R., Carrà, E., & Valls-Vidal, C. (2015). Divorced parents and children of divorce: Social, relational, and individual aspects of wellbeing. In A. M. Columbus (Ed.), Advances in psychology research (pp. 59-80). Hauppauge, NY: Nova Science.

Carrà, E. (Ed.). (2014). Families, Care and Work-Life Balance Services: Case Studies of Best Practices. Milano: Vita&Pensiero.